

We made a meeting yesterday and we discussed the goals of the project and our personal duty that we will be responsible for.

It was a long meeting with each other and we discussed a lot of things about the project.

Every single of us gives a lot of ideas of how to perfect this project .

My duty is to be the admin of the website, my job is to manage the work of the business also to keep all the things internal up to date and running smoothly.

Also my duty is to monitor the performance of the business and of the website also to provide technical data and to keep the website always updated.

When we was discussing about the design of the website and how we was going to manage but also to give a good service to our client i i gave a ideas that was really like from my group members.

My ideas was to make our website with two language in the albania language and also in the english because in a place like tirana with many tourist and foreign people that live there there are too many of them that do not speak albania that's why the english is very important but also our national language also is important to.
